My name is Elena Ilinskaya. I am the founder of the conglomerate Global Quantum Bridges (GQB), which aims to launch more than 1,000 women's businesses in the world.

The history of creation:

The growing large PRO Women community is the platform, the value system on which the new international structure of GQB is based. PRO Women, the ideologist and founder of which is Ekaterina Rybakova, unites more than 77,000 women from 317 cities around the world.

The philosophy of GQB:

At GQB, we recognize any business idea born in a woman's Soul. By bringing together a large number of ladies in different countries, we support and launch their new businesses.
